Several Persons Wounded

Russian Zone
Police Open Fire
On Striking
Railway Workers

BERLIN, Sunday, May 22.—(AP)—German police from Russian-occupied eastern Berlin opened fire last night and early today on striking railway workers at two elevated train stations in the American sector, west Berlin police reported.

Western sector police said several persons were wounded by the gunfire. A train coming from the adjoining Soviet sector with a large number of Russian zone police and Russian-controlled railway police aboard entered the Neukölln station in the American sector about 2:30 a. m. (German time), western police said.

The Russian zone police opened fire immediately on strikers in the station, the western police reported. The number of casualties could not be determined at once because the eastern police occupied the entire station and announced anybody approaching within more than 30 yards would be fired on without warning.

Within minutes after the gunfire, the strikers rallied and attacked the eastern police with heavy clubs, stones and fists. They forced the Communist police to retreat to the Russian sector.

This was done without further shooting. Western police occupied the station for a while and then, finding the situation quiet, turned the building over to the strikers. Both strikers and police began checking on casualties. Meanwhile, these police reported practically all western Berlin elevated stations were a while and then, finding the situation quiet, turned the building over to the strikers.

Scout Camporee
The gunfire broke out when scores of strikers tried to sneak across darkened railway tracks and break into the Wannsee station. There was one casualty, a young man, who was killed.

Scout Camporee
There was a report five of the strikers had been wounded, but this could not be confirmed. Throughout Saturday and far into the night Germans battled Russians in the riotous railway strike which left west Berlin a city of stalled trains and broken heads.

Scout Camporee
In all, hundreds of young Communist strikebreakers and the Soviet sector railway police clashed with the 12,000 strikers.

Scout Camporee
The west Berlin workers are striking against their management in the Russian sector to enforce a demand that they be paid in west marks instead of the Soviet zone's east marks. The eastern currency is worth only a fourth of the western.

Scout Camporee
With Berlin's 3,000,000 residents dependent on the elevated for their transportation, both freight and passenger trains were virtually paralyzed.

Scout Camporee
Most of the strikers are employees of the Soviet-controlled elevated. The walkout of a few hundred from the freight yards, also under Russian control, stalled the city's economy still further.

Scout Camporee
The four occupying powers looked on the series of riots as a matter for the Germans to settle. Though one Russian representative was reported to have suggested allied authorities step in to check mob violence.

Tears Trickled Down Cheeks Of Skinny Kid

As He Rode Pony To Auction Ring; Smiles Came Later

JAMESTOWN, Pa., May 21.—(AP)—He was a skinny kid of 12 and small for his age. The sorrel pony was all he had. He tried hard to be brave but tears trickled down his cheeks as he rode the pony into the auctioneer's ring. A fellow has a right to cry when he's giving up his best friend.

Jackie Little had had the pony for six years—half of his own life. It was his sole playmate on his family's small farm at Kinman, Ohio, just over the Pennsylvania-Ohio line.

During the long months of his mother's final illness Jackie often rode on the pony—Coco—as he talked to his father. Then, word came in the mill during the day and Jackie's mother died a week ago.

Her illness had eaten up the family savings. There wasn't any money to pay for the funeral. Jackie thought about it and reached his unhappy decision. He would sell Coco.

John Reinhold, the auctioneer at the Earvin Payne farm here, knew Jackie's story. That's why he had hard to get up the bids for the pony last night. Bidding was sluggish. The crowd apathetic, finally Reinhold accepted a bid for $155.

"The people came to life," he cried. "I'll give it to you for anything like it," declared J. M. Nichols, manager of the farm. "You couldn't get a dollar out of those people to raise the bidding but suddenly they were willing to give every cent they had."

They collected $190. The man who bought the pony and the auctioneer for a deal ever had been made. They gave Jackie back his pony and the $190. Jackie rushed up and threw his arms around Payne. Then he tried to thank the crowd. His voice choked and he just stood there. Jackie's father tried to thank the people for his tongue-tied son. But his voice stuck too, so they stood there, the two of them, their eyes shining and wet and unable to say a word.

Lightning Strikes Home, But Five-Year-Old Sleeps Soundly

Jimmy Lassie, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. August Lassie, 1115 East Sixteenth street, was awakened by his parents, Saturday morning between 2:00 and 2:30 a. m., unharmed, after a bolt of lightning struck the northeast corner of his bedroom, and bore a hole through the first floor and burned the head of the bed and mattress, while the boy was sound asleep.

"The Lord was with us," the boy's parents happily reported. The father thought that the feather pillow Jimmy was using was what saved him. The noise sounded like an explosion that immediately awakened the parents, while Jimmy and his younger sister, Donna Kay, continued to sleep.

Shingles and boxing were torn off the side of the house by the lightning, which struck about 11 feet above the foundation. No fire broke out, but the lightning was in the way of the path of lightning was melted.

Excited With Joy ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 21.—(AP)—Wally Berry got excited again today, but this time with joy.

Berry became so excited over a fire next door last Tuesday that he dashed out leaving his restaurant unattended for a few minutes. While he was out someone lifted $40 from the cash register.

Today Berry received the $40 in the mail without any explanation.

Cancer Clinic Regular Day Now on Friday

The Professional Staff of the Bothwell Memorial Hospital, co-operating with the Pettis County Cancer Society, announces its regular clinic day as the last Friday in each month, beginning at 1:00 p. m. The opening clinic will be Friday, May 27, at 1:00 p. m. Patients will be registered as they arrive.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Professional Staff of Bothwell Memorial Hospital, it was decided that means should be provided to increase the efficiency and broaden the service of the Cancer Clinic. A committee was appointed to devise means to accomplish this end. The board of trustees has given complete cooperation.

The services of a pathologist on clinic days being secured, Dr. J. W. Walker, a diplomate of the American Board of Pathologic Anatomy and Clinical Pathology has agreed to serve.

Dr. J. W. Walker, a diplomate of the American Board of Pathologic Anatomy and Clinical Pathology will serve as consultant, and to any person for the various physicians, distinguished by their work in Cancer will be present.

Various members of the hospital staff will be present at each clinic and a comprehensive physical examination will be given.

The plan of the clinic is three fold: 1. Cancer finding, 2. Cancer prevention, and 3. Cancer education in regard to Cancer.

It is expected that patients applying for examination will have asked their family physician to refer them, but this does not prohibit persons with a suspected cancer from coming to the clinic.

A note from the family doctor expedites the work of the examination.

The clinic is free, because they are fighting cancer, and it is open to any person regardless of financial condition.

Camporee at Fair Grounds Ends Abruptly

Downpour of Rain Causes Boys to Return to Homes

The Boy Scout Camporee of the Pettis County District, Lake of the Ozarks Council, which started Friday afternoon at the Collin P. Kelly Boy Scout Area at the Missouri State Fair Ground, came to an abrupt end that night when most of the boys got soaking wet from the downpour of rain that poured 1.40 inch. A few who didn't get wet, stuck it out finding refuge in the buildings at the fair grounds, and were still out there Saturday.

But even with the rain the boys had a grand time while they were there. Tents were of all kinds from pup tents to big tents. The boys prepared their own menus and cooked their food over the open fire. One had a little trouble making coffee on a small heater and finally discovered that when the coffee pot was held a little above the flame he had no difficulty at all.

CC Drive For More Members

One Day Derby Will Be Held On Tuesday; Abe Silverman, Chm.

A Chamber of Commerce drive, in the form of a Championship Membership Derby, will be held Tuesday, May 24, according to an announcement by Abe Silverman, past president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the drive.

Approximately 85 Sedalia businessmen have agreed to participate in this membership derby and will call personally on several hundred prospects. Mr. Silverman is anxious to have all who are not members of the Chamber of Commerce join next Tuesday to help make Sedalia a better and more prosperous city.

Silverman went on to say that no city can progress without competent leadership. Sedalia has scratched the surface of its possibilities for growth and prosperity, he said. As long as there is room for growth—and no one should ever admit there isn't—there is a need for a adequately manned and financed Chamber of Commerce.

He stated further: "The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce is constantly on the alert as to the needs of this community and in cooperation with the businessmen, the city administration and other interested citizens, it makes every effort to accomplish these needs."

Need Support Of All
"We all want the proposed U. S. Air Academy located at the Sedalia Airfield and this is one of the Chamber's main projects which needs the physical and financial support of every Sedalian."

The Industrial Development Division, a very important part of Chamber activities, maintains a complete up-to-date file on the vital statistics of Sedalia so that important information is immediately available when industrial prospects and other business people interested in Sedalia need this material.

"Through the affiliation with Better Business Bureau all over the country the Chamber is able to obtain reliable information on any business or solicitation group and stands ready to do everything possible to help straighten out any cases of misrepresentation or unscrupulous business dealings which have occurred. The Chamber of Commerce issues a credential card to all solicitors who have been approved through Better Business Bureau affiliations."

"As a part of the Chamber Public Relations program many persons are supplied with carefully prepared informative pamphlets about Sedalia. Information is available about the Missouri State Fair and reservations for rooms are handled. A directory of civic, fraternal, trade, business, churches and many other organizations is available."

Establish Policies
"Through the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce policies on holiday closing store hours and many other problems are set up for the retail merchants of Sedalia. Special programs such as the Fall Festival and collective sales programs are planned."

Mr. Ghio was headed west, coming from St. Louis to Sedalia. He received a fractured upper right arm. He was taken to the Latham Sanitarium for treatment.

Milkmen Now on Strike Have Been Making $14,500 a Year

KANSAS CITY, May 21.—(AP)—Milkmen now on strike here have been making up to $14,500 a year, a producer association official declared today.

Atthol Cummins, a member of the board of directors of the association, in a statement concerning a strike of milk truck drivers at the Adams company, said: "If the average wage earner knew that some of the truck drivers who only haul milk products from the processing plants to the stores were making up to $14,500 a year, I am sure they would resent it and also realize where some of their milk money is going."

E. C. Adams, president of the dairy, said each of his seven drivers averaged $13,500 a year under a commission payment method with a guarantee of $50 a week.

However, the strikers' attorney, Joseph J. Miniac, said statements about such high salaries were erroneous.

"Some drivers with large routes," Miniac said, "may make $700 a month or more, but that is not average. In most cases it is lower than that."

Cummins said farmers are getting only 1.57 cents a quart for milk while consumers are paying 16 cents a quart.

Most of the difference between those prices, Cummins asserted, "is going to the drivers."

Miniac said the company has offered a straight wage of $1.75 an hour with overtime that figures out about $91 a week. He said the milk drivers local No. 207 (AFL) insists on both the salary and the commission.

Boundaries No Longer Will Be Considered

Southern Baptists Will Expand East, West or North

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist convention shed its identity as a denomination of the South today and served notice that geographical boundaries no longer will interfere with expansion eastward, westward or to the north.

The decision climaxed a chain of events during the 92nd annual session pointing toward Southern Baptist infiltration into territory traditionally dominated by the Northern Baptist convention.

The denomination split into North-South wings at the civil war. Southern Baptist now claim 6,500,000 members, Northern Baptists 1,500,000.

Today's action came after Dr. George Ragland, Lexington, Ky., told the convention Southern Baptists face the prospect of finding Northern Baptist churches throughout the South, overnight.

Referred To Merge
He referred to a proposed merger of Northern Baptists with Disciples of Christ, better known as the Christian church.

Though not as strong as Southern Baptists, the Disciples of Christ denomination is popular in the South.

"Only recently," Dr. Ragland said, "the Kentucky Disciples of Christ approved the proposed merger with Northern Baptists. If this should come about nationwide it will create problems for our Southern Baptist convention."

It would mean that in Lexington, across the street from Emmanuel Baptist church—instead of there being the Woodland Christian church there would be the Woodland Christian - Baptist church.

Without further debate, the convention unanimously adopted the report of a committee headed by Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dallas, Tex., studying the Northern-Southern Baptist situation the past year.

Admitted for medical treatment: Mrs. L. B. Holmes, Route 4, Sedalia.

W. D. Maynard Struck By Car Near His Home

Was Attempting To Pull His Car Out Of Ditch

William Delbert Maynard, aged 28, Spring Fork, was struck by an automobile on south highway 25, about 10 miles south of Sedalia, Saturday night, while he and others were attempting to pull a truck out of a ditch. He was taken to the Bothwell hospital in the Ewing's ambulance, and was treated for compound fractures of both legs, below the knees, a laceration on the back of his head, and a broken nose. He was later taken to the Veterans hospital in Wadsworth, Kas., in the Ewing's ambulance shortly after midnight.

Maynard, driving a Model A-1 Ford, owned by his father-in-law, Frank Logan, was miscalculated where he was to drive in to the Logan home, and ran into a ditch. He flagged a car for assistance to be pulled out of the ditch.

Stopped To Help
G. C. Williams, of Ionia accompanied by his wife, stopped to help Maynard get his automobile out of the ditch. After it became evident that it was impossible to pull the car out, Maynard got out with a flashlight to warn traffic of the presence of the car.

While Maynard was flashing the light, a 1939 Plymouth sedan, driven north by Harry Moore, 623 North Prospect avenue, struck Maynard, knocking him on the highway, but did not cause him to become unconscious. It was reported that the light from the flashlight was dim, and that an on-coming car's light was bright, so that Moore was unable to see Maynard standing near the slab of the pavement.

The highway patrol made an investigation of the accident. R. C. McVey, of West Seventh street reported the accident to the police, who reported it to the highway patrol by radio. Police officers went to the hospital and made a routine check.

Cape Girardeau One Of Missouri Cities Hit; Home Former Sedalian Hit

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes tossed death and destruction at the mid-west Saturday night, killing at least 29 persons and injuring more than 250.

The death count was expected to rise when communications in the shattered areas are restored.

The twisters struck at Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa. They damaged homes and airplanes, uprooted trees, toppled graves-stones, cut power lines, smashed windows and crippled water supplies.

The dead included at least 14 in the Cape Girardeau, Mo., area; at least four at Shelbyville, Ind., although state police reported 10 to 15 dead; two at Terre Haute, Ind.; four near Palestine, Ill.; four in the Wood River, Ill., area, and one at Clarksville, Mo.

From 150 to 220 persons were injured at Cape Girardeau, 40 more near Wood River, three near Palestine, and two in Witt Springs, Ky., where a tornado-type storm left a two-mile-long path of destruction.

Mrs. George H. Scruton, 712 West Third street, received word Saturday night that the brick home of her brother, Gail Jones, in Cape Girardeau, was demolished by the tornado. Mr. Jones, a former Sedalian, who is ill with chicken pox, heard the storm coming and with the entire family, went to the basement of the home. None of them were injured.

Mrs. Jones' parents, who live in Jefferson City, were preparing last evening to go to Cape Girardeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Scruton and daughter Judy spent last week end in the Jones home in Cape Girardeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dare Whitaker, and eleven of Cape Girardeau, have been visiting in Sedalia, and left for their home there about 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening.

Whipped Across Terre Haute
The Indiana twister whipped across the eastern sector of Terre Haute and then struck at Shelbyville, to the south.

It leveled 200 homes in the west end of Shelbyville. State police who reported that 12 to 15 persons had been killed, said they had no details.

Early in the evening, 52 persons from Shelbyville were brought in to nearby Sullivan hospitals. A nurse said casualties were "filling the halls and basement."

The twisters struck Illinois from both sides. One hit near Palestine, just across the Illinois-Indiana line, and another skidded across the Missouri river from the west and struck in the vicinity of Alton, Wood River and Hartford.

Knocked Out Power Plant
The Red Cross estimated damage in the eastern sector of the Palestine area at $75,000 to $100,000. The tornado knocked out a water company's power plant serving the towns of Robinson, Oblong and Palestine.

With only a 12-hour supply of water remaining, residents were urged by men in loud-speaker trucks to use water sparingly.

The Wood River area was flooded by a heavy downpour which accompanied the tornado. All power service was cut off, and more than 200 homes and a theater were damaged.

In Clarksville, Mo., close to the Illinois line and about 75 miles northwest of St. Louis, several homes and barns were damaged and a residential tract uprooted.

The residential sector of Cape Girardeau was smashed, and communication lines were out of commission. Many persons were reported injured, but details were lacking.

Identified Man Killed
The highway patrol identified the man killed in Cape Girardeau as Ed Hudspeth, 51.

The patrol also said the Rev. Truman Fulbright, 30, of Bensenville was killed when struck by flying debris while riding in his automobile near Bensenville, Mo. county just west of Cape Girardeau. Three men were injured near there.

Among the buildings destroyed or damaged at Cape Girardeau, the patrol said, were a tourist court, an automobile agency, a bottling plant and the Mercantile Bank. Cape Girardeau has a population of about 20,000.

Several were reported injured in Oak Ridge, some 25 miles north of Cape Girardeau.

Tornado winds accompanied by rain and hail caused heavy damage in northern St. Louis county and at Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport. No fatalities were reported in the county.

Ten airplanes, including a two-engine C-47, were damaged at the airport. A deputy sheriff estimated at $500,000 in another part of St. Louis county.

Heavy Property Damage
In northwest St. Louis county, a twister struck the Bridgeton area. There were no immediate reports of casualties, but property damage was extensive.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(AP)—A lady poet once wrote: "Laugh and the world laughs with you."

If this were only true, H. Allen Smith—who is certainly no lady and probably no poet—would be a happy man indeed.

For his job is to make as much of the world laugh as he can. He writes funny books for a living.

Smith should be in a position to give a formula on how to be funny in print. Beginning in 1941 with "Low Man on a Totem Pole," his books have sold some 2,600,000 copies. His publisher says he is "The best-selling humorist since Mark Twain."

But Smith knows of no sure-fire formula for creating a belly laugh.

On Different Wave Lengths

"The problem a humorist faces," he said, "is that people are on different wave lengths. The public reacts differently. Humor is the most difficult form of expression for the reason that you are never sure of it. And there is nothing sorer than a joke that doesn't go."

"You have to tell yourself: 'To hell with the others—I'll write for those on my beam.'"

The humor wave lengths at his own four-acre homehead at suburban Mt. Kisco collide head-on, Smith's daughter, Nancy, 20, likes his writing, but he doubts if his son, Allen, 21, has ever read one of his 11 books clear through.

"My wife's not on my wave length either," he said. "She looks at each succeeding manuscript and says, 'Good God, you're not going to turn that in!'"

Wife Was Society Editor

Mrs. Smith used to be society editor on a newspaper.

Smith himself began his career by shining shoes and sweeping up hair in a barber shop. He worked on a dozen papers as a wandering newspaperman, a career in which he felt a grammar school education was no real handicap.

He also has written a syndicated column, served as a radio commentator, and once wrote five lines for a movie during a six-month stay in Hollywood.

"I kept alive by writing funny memos to the boss," he said.

A humorist at work is as lonely as a fly at a DDT salesman's convention. Smith spends four hours every morning at his typewriter in a workshop over his garage. He writes swiftly.

A Good Rewrite Man

"The thing I am proudest of in my newspaper life is that I was a helluva good rewrite man," he said.

He still is. He writes each book twice. The first time he races through as quickly as he can hit the keys. The second time he puts on a verbal polish. His latest book, "Low and Inside," is a collection of baseball anecdotes co-authored with Ira Smith. It took him a month, once the material was ready.

Smith is a small, sharp-nosed man of 41. He is sober of face and heart, and he has a look around the eyes reminiscent of Ernie Pyle. He likes people individually, hates sham, collects screwballs, and doesn't blush when referred to as "a debunker with a heart of gold." He takes his humor seriously.

Hates Stuff-Shirking

"I think a guy who can write humor contributes more than 50 percent of the serious writers," he said.

To him the funniest sight beneath the sun is a formal ceremony of any kind, because it shows mankind pretending to be more than it is. The "ism" he hates most is stuffed-shirtism.

"If I preach at all," he said, "I preach bitterly."

I asked him what was the saddest thing he had ever seen.

"The human race," he said.

Most humorists reach that conclusion.

In Jail When Unable To Pay

Three Who Helped Bring V-E Day Are Held On Old Law

RUTLAND, Vt., May 21—(AP)—Gov. Ernest W. Gibson apparently dashed hopes of early freedom Friday night for three veterans jailed under a 141-year-old poor debtors law because they can't pay judgments in civil actions.

In an interview at Springfield, Mass., Gibson said he has no authority to intervene in the cases because they are civil processes.

This apparently killed hope expressed yesterday by two of the men that the governor might call a special legislative session to wipe the 1808 statute off the books.

All three cases are based on automobile accidents. Two of the combat veterans were not arrested or charged with criminal offense. The third paid a $25 fine, a plea of guilty to careless and negligent driving, before he was jailed in a damage action.

The latter, Frederick L. Lapan, 34, of Marshfield, was jailed May 2 when unable to pay a $450 judgment. His wife and three children are receiving public support.

The two other veterans are Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, and Ralph J. Fugatt, former Springfield, Mass., newspaperman, both of whom were jailed in lieu of judgments exceeding $2,000 each.

Fugatt's attorney, Edward J. Shea, said his client's wife and infant son were subsisting largely on an allowance he received for 40 percent wartime disability.

Permit To Greet Family

They visited him at the jail today and Fugatt and his attractive wife, Katherine, burst into tears as he saw the infant for the first time and held him in his arms.

Understanding officers permitted Fugatt to greet his family, including his mother, outside the jail when they arrived by automobile from Springfield.

Smith is not married. He has spent about 15 months in jail, including several months in a hospital, and Fugatt about two months.

Although veterans are planning meetings over the week-end to consider the plight of the three ex-soldiers, Joseph F. O'Neill, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, took the stand the issue should not be made primarily of veterans' concern. He asserted it was a question of ridding the state of an archaic law. Theoretically, the three veterans could remain in jail for life, unless the judgments were paid or they took poor debtors' oaths.

Attorney Shea said Fugatt had refused the latter avenue to release, and Smith's attorney, Philip Phelps, said his client had refused to permit his father to sell his home for funds to obtain his liberty.

Ironically, the only fatality of three accidents, that in which Smith was involved, had as the victim another newly returned combat soldier, James Manghan. His widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Manghan, with six living children feels the judgment against Smith should be paid.

In Debtors' Prison

These World War II veterans, Bernard Smith, Jr. (left), of Fairhaven, Vermont, and Ralph J. Fugatt, of Springfield, Massachusetts, are being held in prison at Rutland, Vermont, and have no idea when they will be released. In separate cases growing out of automobile accidents, a judgement of $2,180.52 was ordered against Fugatt and another of $2,075.96 against Smith. They are being held in jail by a Vermont law, dating from the early 1800's, called a "close jail execution" and which does not permit bail. Under that law they will not be freed unless they can raise the amount of the judgements or take pauper's oaths. Fugatt has been in jail seven weeks and Smith nearly that long. (AP WIREPHOTO)

"WYNN'S FRICTION PROOFING OIL ... makes Starting Easier in All Weathers!"

As one of the owners of the Cities Service Garage, Oakland & Johnson Sts., Pontiac, Mich., Frank Schlachter seeks to maintain his firm's reputation for superior service. Thus, he tested WYNN'S FRICTION PROOFING OIL carefully at first. Now he says:

"After exhaustive tests and eleven months of experience, it is with the highest praise that we recommend WYNN'S FRICTION PROOFING OIL for motors, transmissions and differentials.

"Easier starting in winter or summer ... smoother performance, increased power, engine economy ... are only a few of the benefits gained through Friction Proofing!

"In one instance, we had a motor that was overheating and seizing after a few minutes operation. We added WYNN'S FRICTION PROOFING OIL. Immediately the engine picked up speed. In 10 minutes the temperature had dropped to normal."

"A Mr. Zell ordered a load of coal. Is this the right house?"
"Yes, and I am Gladys Zell."
"So am I."

The atomic bomb, notwithstanding, there's nothing so explosive as the powder on a married man's coat lapel.

"Psychological studies have shown that chance actually plays a small part in determining how lucky or unlucky we are, according to Your Life Magazine. Luck is self-generated to a large extent by a kind of sixth sense which all of us possess, highly active in some people, dormant in others. Mental states which produce tension—worry, fear, anxiety and self-doubt—have a paralyzing effect on intuitive perception. Complete serenity, poise, and self-confidence permit the delicate sixth sense to function at peak efficiency."

So, that's why some of us can't win at poker! Our intuitive perception has been paralyzed all this time.

"You can not bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

Who said that? Sounds like a lot of trips, these days, doesn't it?

Poor old out-moded Abraham Lincoln might have had difficulty adjusting himself to the tenets of the "welfare state."

A ditch digger who knows what he is digging for and accomplishes the purpose assigned him is immeasurably more worthy than the skilled craftsman who neglects the oil cups of his machinery.

Why is it that after an illness is cured, the half-used medicine bottle lingers in the medicine cabinet for months and even years?

One observes many anomalies in a big city. For instance in New York department stores there are hundreds of signs reading: "It is unlawful to smoke in retail stores." Yet the back seats in Radio City Music Hall are equipped with ash trays for theatre patrons who nonchalantly smoke cigarettes during performances.

He who comes up to his own idea of greatness, must always have had a very low standard of it in his mind.—William Hazlitt.

Speculation over the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., to Congress from New York that some day he might become President of the United States, has been exploded because he was born in Canada. The Constitution provides that only a natural born citizen is eligible for the office of president. If anyone thinks an ambitious Roosevelt cannot find some way to remove that technical hurdle, or at least try to do so, then they don't know our Roosevelts.

Sanity in government will return only in the degree with which the people at the ballot box express their convictions instead of their emotions.

Wood-boring beetles sometimes puncture lead-covered telephone cables, which they mistake for hard, dead tree limbs, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. Those dumb bugs are another reason for high operational costs in the telephone industry—and higher rates to the telephone user.

The welfare state congressmen are overlooking a bet on this ignorant bug situation. How about a billion dollar appropriation for an educational and research fund to drill some sense into those wood-boring beetles. Keep them away from the cables, lower the telephone company costs, and pass the savings on to the common man—it's as simple as that. Of course no one would suspect where the billion dollars for the educational fund would come from.

Dies Of Heart Attack In Wreck

SALT LAKE CITY, May 21.—(P)—One woman died of a heart attack and at least two other persons suffered broken limbs Friday when the rear car on the Union Pacific's westbound Los Angeles Limited was derailed at Emory, Utah.

Railroad spokesmen identified the heart victim as Mrs. George A. Jensen, 61, Minneapolis, Minn. Her husband, also 61 and a locomotive engineer with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, suffered a broken left leg.

He, and other injured persons, were taken to a hospital at Coalville, Utah.

The injury list may "run as high as eight persons," a spokesman said. The others were believed only "shaken up."

The rear truck of the rear car slipped off the rails about 4 p. m. (MST).

The car remained upright but passengers were "jolted considerably" as the rear wheels bounced along the rail ties.

The accident scene was 50 miles east of Ogden, Utah, and 28 miles west of Evanston, Wyo.

The train continued to Ogden.

American cities grew at a much slower rate in the 1930-40 decade than ever before.

ST. LOUIS, May 21.—(P)—Federal District Judge George H. Moore ruled Friday that 28 tenants of the Jefferson Heights apartments in Jefferson City have been overcharged a total of $3,310.

He ordered a judgment for the amount entered against the Salvaterra Realty Company and its president, H. C. Waldman of St. Louis. The company operates the apartments. The money will be distributed to the 28 tenants.

The ruling was on a suit filed against the company by a representative of the Federal Housing Expediter. The case was argued here and taken under advisement by Judge Moore on May 8.

'If I Were as Young as You' Theme of Talk

Given Graduates Of Hubbard High School by Georgian

Commencement exercises were held at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening at the C. C. Hubbard high school for the 31 graduates in the class of 1944. J. Hylick is principal of the school.

The program was opened with two musical selections, the "Processional March" by Schmidt, and the "Gypsy Festival Overture" by Hayes. Dr. J. V. Jackson, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church, then presented a Scriptural reading, which was followed by the invocation, given by Dr. U. L. Wilson, pastor of the Grissam temple, C. M. E. church. Another musical number, "Tales From the Vienna Woods" by Strauss, was played.

Prof. Hylick then presented the commencement speaker, Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Ph. D., president of Morehouse college of Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Mays received his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago, and has been several college presidents in addition to his present office at Morehouse college. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society.

Talks To Graduates
Dr. Mays chose as the theme of his address, "If I Were As Young As You." He said that his remarks would be addressed primarily to the graduates, because they were the young men and women whose lives might be molded by what he had to say. Dr. Mays also said that ten years from now he might be too late to change if the students did not already have the proper outlook on their lives and work.

Dr. Mays said that it was a great thing to be young and be able to dream and plan a life for the future. He advised the graduates to find what they liked in every detail and become an expert in their field, regardless of the work which they had chosen. He told them to develop a "divine restlessness" in trying always to do better, and never allow themselves fall into the comparative mediocrity which an contented self-satisfied attitude would bring.

Advised To Live Full Lives
He advised the graduates to live full lives, which was more important than living narrow. He urged them to develop their own task which very few people do well in the modern world. Dr. Mays then voiced his personal belief that within 25 years there will be no segregation in America, and the Negro will be on the same plane as the white man. He urged the graduates to be ready for this time when it came. As an example of how one race overcame prejudice, Dr. Mays cited the Jews, whose ruins have reached into almost every part of learning and the fine arts in the modern world.

The Graduates
Prof. Hylick then presented the candidates for graduation. Dr. Heber U. Hunt, superintendent of Sedalia public schools, presented diplomas to the following graduates: Edward Banks, Leon Benham, Uddell Boggers, Milton Brown, Valeria Carter, Kenneth Collins, Calvin Cooper, Wilson Fitzpatrick, Minnie Burd, Marie Hamilton, William Hollin, Curtis Jernigan, Orla Johnson, Carolyn Jones, Howard Molder, Naomi Parks, Anna Perkins, Barbara Peyton, Peggy Powell, Christine Russell, Maxine Shanley, Ramona Smith, Helen Snorgrass, Armour Stephenson, Eddie Stephenson, Jewel White, Catherine Williams and there graduates, Sadella Williams.

The Rev. C. G. Fox Completes Fifty Years in the Ministry

The Rev. C. G. Fox, formerly rector of Calvary Episcopal church, Sedalia, who for a number of years has resided in Fort Worth, Texas, is today observing his 50th anniversary in the ministry.

A Fort Worth newspaper recently carried a picture of Rev. Fox, with the following article: "Rev. C. G. Fox, 2205 Fairmont, an Episcopal minister who serves the parish of the Holy Spirit Mission at Graham, will celebrate his 50th year in the priesthood on May 22.

"He still believes there is not a man or woman living who is wholly bad. This faith in the power of even a little bit of good and an abiding confidence in the strength of the church has motivated his career which began as a missionary in a North Canadian Indian reservation.

"He was the first to represent the Church of England at Split Lake, Manitoba, an assignment he undertook after graduation from St. John's College in Winnipeg in 1899. Here he built his own log house, his own church and first born child, George Fox, now of San Angelo.

"In 1911, he left his mission work to volunteer as chaplain for a Scottish regiment and became a captain with the fighters known as "Ladies from Hell." At the close of the war, the family which now included a daughter, Noreen, born in England, moved to Cleveland, Minn., where he obtained the rectory in 1919. Posts in Valley City, N. D., Sedalia, Mo., Springfield, Mo., Dallas and Fort Worth followed.

"Outstanding in his recollections is a memorable service held at the close of the battle of Iliid 70 during World War I.

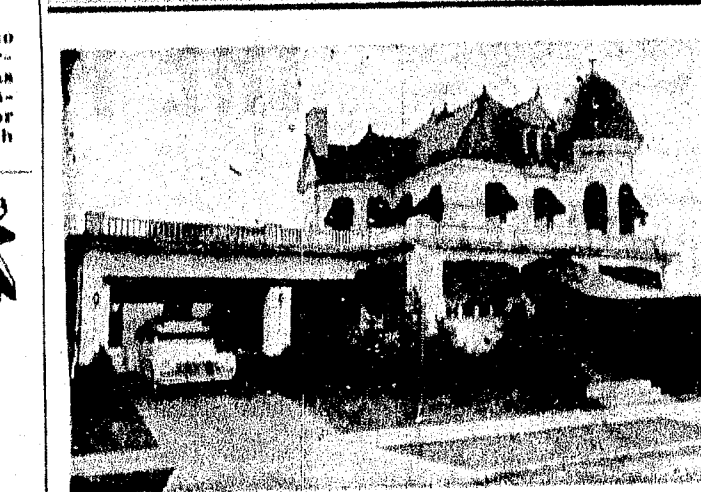

"About 50 per cent of the men were lost in capturing the hill," he recalls. "The remainder returned to their billets suffering from fatigue. At the first service after the battle, 90 per cent of the officers and men knelt in an open field to receive Holy Communion. That was more impressive than the most formal service I ever conducted."

"Padre's direct approach to religion, a trait that endeared him to military men of several nations, is based on his belief that missionary work in commonplace and should be practiced at all times in all places.

"Although he spends his weekends at Graham, which he reaches by bus, he spreads his faith at all times.

"A casual sidewalk conversation can bring comfort and help to people who need you and you don't have to be a minister to be a missionary," he argues.

"With him when he celebrates his 50th year in the clergy will be his wife, his son and his family and daughter, Noreen, now Mrs. Jack Collier."

Just Make it Clear and Forget Old Grammar Rules

By Adelaide Kerr

AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK, May 21.—(P)—It's OK now to even use a preposition to end a sentence with.

A lot of things are happening to grammar.

They are signs of a liberalism that is spreading through the English language. It is part of an evolutionary change. Expressions that once bore "Don't Touch" labels are gradually gaining qualified acceptance. So many words are being added that some dictionaries now put out supplements between editions to keep up with the pace.

There is no longer a single standard of acceptable English," says Prof. Allen Walker Read of Columbia University, one of the modern experts.

"One style is proper to one audience, another to a different audience. The main thing is to communicate your thoughts clearly. Many of the old rules were just made up by people who had certain ideas and whom the rest followed like sheep."

New Approved Changes Here are some changes approved by one or more of the experts:

Prepositions may be used to end sentences sometimes, if wedged into the body of a sentence makes it awkward or alters the meaning. One expert says the old rule came in part from rhetorical theory, that it does not apply to the English language and never has been observed in general practice.

The split infinitive is not absolutely taboo any more. The teachers who tell the teachers say there are circumstances when split infinitives are necessary if the meaning is to be clear, though they should be avoided when they result in awkwardness. One calls the old rule "little more than pedantic rubbish."

Places for "O. K." OK is given unequal standing as a word in one dictionary. Several others label it "colloquial," though some still omit it. A college president may say "OK," but he still would not use it in an address to students.

There are some cases in which compound subjects joined by "and" take a singular verb instead of a plural one. One example is the compound subject which refers to the same person as: "My old friend and teacher is coming." Another is the compound subject followed by the verb, as: "There is honor and wealth for the man who attempts it."

In actual practice farther and further are interchanged in all uses except when the meaning is "in addition" or "more," where only further is permissible.

Generally Accepted Anybody else's has generally replaced the old form of anybody's else.

None is generally used with a plural verb rather than a singular one, as: "None are here" instead of "None is here."

Can is often used in constructions which grammarians formerly thought demanded "may," as: "You can go to the party."

Whose is used to refer to things, when "of which" would be awkward, as: "The dog whose leg was broken."

Add to those changes a long list of new words which have sprouted from the times: Jinx, jitters, jive, juke box, fellow traveler, strip tease, rain check, disc jockey, double talk, cold shoulder and cold war are listed in one or more standard dictionaries or fiction.

Even "Ain't" Is Used Hep, hubba, yatta, boogie woogie, snafu, frame-up, horse opera, soap opera, cheese cake, and super-duper appear as slang or "popular." The times have also bred a long list of new words, including: Ramjet and Turbojet (types of jet-propelled planes), aureomycin (a new drug), benelux, cominform, airlift and psychomatic medicine.

Even "ain't" is not as completely blacklisted as it used to be.

BOY TRAINER — Michael Fay, 13-year-old Granada, Calif., high school student and a horse trainer, has his Palomino, Jimmy Hix, demonstrate how he releases his master from ropes.

Though some dictionaries still ignore its existence, several list it with some such tag as "illiterate" and "not regarded as good usage." But one says it has some sanction as a contraction of am not. And one expert says if enough influential people use it, it will become established in the language.

Miners Accept A Wage Reduction

BAXTER SPRINGS, Minn., May 21.—Approximately 200 miners of the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company here after a strike of a $2.25 a day wage cut. A six-day work week was returned.

Officials of the international union of mine mill and smelter workers (IUMMS) came to town earlier this week with the union as an affiliate of the National Lead Company to resume work after a month's suspension of operations. Operations resumed April 23 following a series of sharp declines in the price of ore.

The company is the third largest producer in the tri-state mining field.

Arizona's copper mines are among the greatest in the world.

Style Guide for today's woman By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

There is a double holiday just around the corner and you want to have your wardrobe complete for whatever activities that it may offer. If you are going to take a trip by train it is wise to have a two piece dress in either chambray or stonecutter cord. Select a sultan dress that will look well with the jacket and it will double for street wear or even for dancing. Shorts or pedal-pushers or even slacks must be included as well as a swim suit. Swim suits come packed in waterproof bags and they are very practical. Be sure to have an extra pair of hose and you'll need stainless bras and half slips. A gay scarf will be useful to tie your hair back if you're taking a boat trip or traveling by car. Don't overlook a good face cream—a sultan can be painful as well as beautiful.

Once a Girl Scout, always a Girl Scout. Girl Scouts grow up. A recent phone call from a grown-up Girl Scout who said "I want to do something in Scouting I don't have a lot of time now, and besides, I'm eighteen, but I still belong." Our answer is yes, there is a place for the grown-up Girl Scout, and an important one. She can help at day-camp this summer, she can be an assistant leader. We are planning three day camps this summer and will need help, in crafts, hikes, nature study and out-door lore, general camp living, songs, games and folk-dances. If you can volunteer to help with the Girl Scout summer program, please call the Girl Scout office in the court house. Girls who go away to school often look for an opportunity to get together with old friends when they are home for the summer holidays.

What does it mean to belong to the Girl Scouts of the United States of America? It means sharing the fun of growing and learning and living with other girls of your own age. It means sharing ideas with more than one and one-quarter million Girl Scouts in every state and territory of the nation. It means belonging to the Girl Scouts is an individual thing, and it is fun, when you read this weeks list of Girl Scout outings and party for the closing of the current school year. Many troops will meet once or twice a month during the summer vacation.

Troop 16, eighth grade Girl Scouts with their leaders: Mrs. C. A. Freeberg and Mrs. Noel Twest, and as guest and special consultant, Mrs. Carl Siegel, who is an experienced camper. Nature study formed the basis for a hike, out door-cooking, the first time for some of the girls, and handicraft, completed a busy week-end program for the Girl Scouts and their leaders. Mrs. Freeberg and Mrs. Siegel, both newcomers to Sedalia, expressed themselves as well pleased with the camp site and equipment.

Brownie Troop No. 58, Jefferson school, with their leaders, Mrs. H. C. Sullivan and Mrs. Edmer Lane, hiked to Russell Park, for an afternoon of fun in using the play-ground equipment, then on a short hike to the Lane farm for a picnic lunch and wienner roast. There are ten girls in the group and had a full attendance.

Troop 21, Sacred Heart, eighth grade, was entertained by their leaders, with a party in the school auditorium, Friday evening. The leaders are: Mrs. Roger Fuller and Mrs. William Dick. Invited guests in addition to troop members were Boy Scout Troop 58 of Sacred Heart, with their Scout Master, Roger Fuller and assistants, Daniel Wolf and William Dick. Rev. A. J. Magoni, assistant pastor, Troop mothers, Mrs. Thomas Kestring, Mrs. Charles F. Pfeiffer and Mrs. L. Weather. Senior Girl Scouts from the Freshman troop to welcome the girls into the senior program in September were: Dorothy Dick, Regina Boul, Beverly Linden and Marlene Stimpfel. A short program by troop members, games and dancing were much enjoyed. Refreshments were served with the troop members, on K. P. duty.

Rose Society At Gill Home
The Sedalia Rose society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Gill, 908 Arlington avenue, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A dessert course carried out in the club colors of rose and green preceded the business meeting. The president, John G. Schaffer, presided.

G. V. Jones, program chairman, introduced Mrs. H. C. Sammons, who assisted by Mrs. Leland Hoback and Mrs. Perry L. Strode, presented an interesting program, the topic, "Singing and Judging a Rose Show."

The display of early blooming roses was beautiful and varied, and the large number of rose blossoms furnished an excellent idea of what is to be expected when the Sedalia Rose society stages its rose show Friday, June 3, to which the public is invited to attend and to exhibit their roses.

Victor Gill, general chairman for the rose show, outlined plans for this show at the meeting Tuesday night.

Fight Typhoid

(NEA Telephoto)
This little girl is receiving a typhoid shot at a Red Cross first aid station in Ft. Worth, Texas, where Red Cross doctors and nurses are fighting the spread of disease after a flash flood which held the city in a paralyzing grip for 24 hours.

Money Left Melita Day Nursery by Mrs. D.T. Abell Being Used

Top: The first house built in Sedalia, which housed the first Melita Day Nursery, organized in 1910. It stood on the ground which is now Smith-Cotton high school. The house was moved, when the property was turned over to the board of education, and is now located on Saline street and Mill avenue. Below: The Melita Day Nursery as it is today, on the northwest corner of Second street and Washington avenue. It was the Blair home, sold to the Nursery by Miss Jessie Blair, who now lives at 428 South Grand avenue. The top picture was taken from a copy in the History of Sedalia, by Bill Padgett, who also took the picture of the nursery of today.

The safety of little children playing in the yard at Melita Day Nursery, second street and Washington avenue, this summer will be protected by a newly installed chain link fence, thanks to the late, Mrs. D. T. Abell, who left $500 in her will for the purpose of improving the property.

Stipulations indicated in her will were that the money she donated must be used for the improvement of the property, so with the consent of the executor of the estate, John T. Martin, the money was used to purchase an iron fence around the property.

Other improvements are in the process of being made. New screens have been installed, and preparations are being made to paint the frame building, and to make other general improvements.

More Children This Summer

Mrs. Loula Buell, Matron at the Nursery for the past eleven years, said the worthy organization was taking care of about 25 children a day, and since school is out, this number would increase. The Nursery now serves between 800 and 1000 meals a month.

Reminiscing with board members, recalled some of the past history and accomplishments of this charitable organization, which provides food, safe and comfortable shelter for children between the ages of 2 and 10 years of age while their mothers are at work during the day.

Organized in 1910

The Nursery was organized in 1910. The home of the Nursery until 1922 was in the first building erected in Sedalia by General George R. Smith, the founder of this city, near the site of where Smith-Cotton high school is now located. This house is now situated at Saline street and Mill avenue.

When Mrs. Sarah E. Cotton donated her home place and grounds to the Sedalia School District for the erection of Smith-Cotton high school, it needed the property of the Nursery to complete its plans. It purchased for the Nursery the home then owned by Miss Jessie Blair and exchanged it for the Nursery building. The Nursery was named in honor of Mrs. Cotton's sister, Miss Melita Smith.

The present home of the Nursery is located on the northwest corner of Washington avenue and Second streets. The property consists of two lots 90x120 feet. The building is a large two-story frame building, having twelve rooms, including bathroom, closets, porches, etc.

The Nursery functions from equal donations of $30 a month each from the city and county budgets, and a great proportion from the Community Chest fund, and private donations from Sedalia's citizens who take an interest in the organization.

Ned Spencer First President

The first president of the organization was Ned Spencer, who was succeeded by John Montgomery, Jr., followed by James T. Montgomery, who was succeeded by the present president, W. F. Keyser.

Present officers and board members of the Nursery are: W. F. Keyser, president; George H. Truder, vice president; Mrs. D. P. Dyer, recording secretary; W. M. Johns, treasurer; Miss Nina Harris, corresponding secretary; Miss Kathryn Courtney, Mrs. W. M. Johns, Mrs. T. W. Cloney, II, Mrs.

John McGrath, Mrs. G. P. Darnell, Mrs. Lawrence S. Geiger, Mrs. A. L. Walter, Mrs. Heber U. Hunt, Mrs. W. F. Keyser and I. H. Reed.

The cost of feeding and caring for the children, including all expenses of maintaining the Nursery is about $250 a month. This includes wages of the matron and assistant, telephone, heat, light, water and gas, food, milk, etc.

There are about 75 members belonging to this organization, pay a membership fee of a dollar per year.

Among the Indian mounds at Cahokia, Ill., is one which covers 16 acres and rises about 100 feet. It is the largest man-made earthen mound in the country and is bigger than the great pyramid of Cheops in Egypt.

The true tarantula is found in southern Europe.

Mount Rainier, Washington, was named after a friend of Capt. George Vancouver, British navigator and explorer who sighted it in 1792.

Mae's Ankle and a Heel

While Fracture Mended, 'Diamond Lil' West Went to Work on Joe Casanova (It's a Book)

BEDRIDDEN MAE AND ANKLE: "Toughest cast I ever had."

By JAMES THRASHER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—All the wise gossips along Broadway were saying see what Mae West must be going crazy—ten weeks, think of it, laid up with a busted ankle, and her never sick a day of her life.

"It was the toughest cast I ever had to work with," she said, "and I've had some dandies. What did I do all that time in bed? Well, I worked on a novel called 'Joe Casanova.' You know who Casanova was? You know what a heel is? Yeah? Well, this Joe is both."

"I started him two years ago and let him be for a while. I haven't finished him yet. Did I read as well as write? No, I didn't read much."

The business about never being sick a day in her life was almost literally true. The first performance she ever missed in more years of show business than she cares to specify was last January in Baltimore. The doctors said she had appendicitis.

"I walked out of the hospital with a temperature of 102 and didn't show," she said. "But you can't walk out on a fracture."

"It's well she didn't try, for she was told that if she had taken a step after the accident she would really have been in trouble."

After that came 10 weeks in a cast, during which, along with a continuous performance of phone calls, telegrams and flowers, there was a little matter of income—or lack of it—from the hit melodrama, "Diamond Lil." But there also was $40,000 worth of advance sales in the bank.

Whether "Lil" is a continuous performance itself or a revival is a matter of argument in the foot-light fraternity, but it has resumed again with its original cast, Miss West having discarded the one on her ankle.

"There are a lot of out-of-town-ers who came in to see the play and they're still waiting," she said. "Why, three young men came all the way up here from Cuba. They've been here four weeks and they won't leave."

Miss West's vehicle is, of course, the hit of 20 years ago in which she first issued her famous invitation to come up and call. She took it to England last year for eight months in London and two more in the provinces. The audience, a bunch of old Mae West movie fans, loved it. So did the press. Even the critic of the staid Manchester Guardian broke down and cheered.

Miss West admits that "maybe some of my plays were a little ahead of their time." But "Diamond Lil," she reports, gets the same reaction that it did in 1929. She hasn't changed a line or a situation, and she gets her laughs in the same places.

"My doctor tells me that my broken ankle is stronger than it ever was," she said. "He says that the Mae West glide—or whatever you want to call it—is better than ever."

Iowa Heads Farm Income

Iowa also topped all other states for the first three months of 1949 with income of $583,618,000. This was below the $589,044,000 with which the state led in the first quarter of 1948.

McKissick Tavern Robbed

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—(AP)—Two armed men held up the Henry McKissick tavern at busy 31st street and Troost avenue during the morning rush hour today and escaped with $1,343.

The holdup occurred at 7:50 a. m. as the morning rush traffic crowded the intersection. Many persons were waiting for street cars only a few feet from the holdup scene.

Thad D. Nave, bartender-manager of the tavern, said one of the men walked up to the bar and ordered a glass of beer; the other stood by the door.

As Nave started to draw the beer, the bandit drew a .38 caliber revolver and demanded: "Let's have it. I don't want any silver."

The leading wheat-producing state in 1948 was Kansas, which harvested about 10 per cent of the U. S. crop. Following in order North Dakota, Oklahoma, Montana, Nebraska, Washington, Ohio, Texas, Colorado and South Dakota.

Regular Army Enlistment Requirements

The local Recruiting Officer, Sgt. John R. Stacy, announced today the new Regular Army Enlistment and Reenlistment requirements.

He stated that married men applying for enlistment from civilian life with dependent children are authorized to enlist in the Regular Army only if entitled to enlistment in grade four or higher. This includes men reenlisting within 90 days from date of discharge. This means former NCO's in the old grade of Sergeant or higher who held their Military Occupational Specialty long enough to qualify for grade four under present War Department directives, and now have dependents are eligible for enlistment.

Applicants for the Air Force from civilian life with dependents are authorized to enlist in the Air Force only if entitled to enlistment in grade three or higher. Men reenlisting within 90 days from the date of discharge from the Air Force, even though not entitled to enlistment in one of the first three grades, can be reenlisted without regard to the number of dependents.

Former Members Eligible
Former members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard and Marine Corps who served 24 months or longer may enlist in the Army or Air Force provided they were discharged in grade five or higher. Individuals with less than 24 months prior service

Diploma, But No Classes

HAMILTON, Mo., May 20.—(P)—Marquard Baird, Jr., received his diploma last night, although he never had attended classes at Hamilton high school.

Young Baird, now 17, has been confined to a wheel chair since his injury was struck by a motor car in 1941.

Teachers went to his home to help him complete his grade school work. He took part of his high school courses by correspondence from the University of Missouri and the remainder from visiting teachers at Hamilton high school.

However, he took the regular examinations given other students in his classes and finished third in the senior class of 35 with an average of 93.8.

With the help of the state department of vocational rehabilitation, Baird plans to attend college, majoring in commerce.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marquard Baird, Sr., who live on a farm near here.

Quintuplets 15-Years Old On Saturday

Celebration Today Marking Birthday And Father's Day

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28.—The Dionne quintuplets were 15 years old today. They received their 15th birthday from their father, Mr. Callander, who was born on the same day.

The big birthday celebration was deferred however until tomorrow. The party will be a two-fold affair, marking both the birthday and Father's Day which the girls have advanced to suit their own purposes.

Annette, Emilie, Yvonne, Cecile and Marie have reached the age of 15 without being spoiled, their nurses and teachers say despite the world attention that has been heaped upon them.

Greetings from many parts of the world were received today. The girls still look so much alike they can hardly be told apart except that Marie wears glasses.

Not interested in dates, the girls are not interested in dates, in clothes, in lip stick, in still dress alike, usually in dark blue jumpers with light blouses.

"We want them to stay little girls as long as they can," explained Sister Aimee Des Anges, head of the school in the converted nursery that was built with money from a quintuplet movie and other royalties.

The girls are taking first year high school courses along with 10 other girls of the neighborhood. After the 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. school hours they help their mother with the cooking and cleaning.

The youngsters like to put on little plays and musicals and this they do in the basement rumpus room, one of which can be turned into a stage. None has yet chosen her career.

Invite Father's Friends
The father, Oliver, a dapper 35-year-old man, is not interested in dates, in clothes, in lip stick, in still dress alike, usually in dark blue jumpers with light blouses.

The fun-loving girls have invited 10 friends of their father for the party tomorrow. They are the fathers of girls with whom the quintuplets attend school.

As usual, the quintuplets have contributed to a special Sunday show for the occasion.

BULLETIN

DETROIT, May 28 (AP)—The 24-day-old Ford strike was settled tonight.

The settlement left the key issue of the strike to arbitration. The Ford Motor Co. and CIO United Auto Workers agreed to pick a three-man arbitration board. Each side will have one member, and the two chosen will try to agree on a third man.

If they fail to reach agreement in a limited time, the settlement provided that position will be taken by Dr. Harry Shuman, impartial umpire under the Ford-UAW contract.

The company's disciplinary action against 35 Ford workers at the start of the strike another snag in the settlement was recorded.

Jurors' Duties Explained by Circuit Judge

Members Instructed To Investigate Gang Killings

KANSAS CITY, May 28 (AP)—A special grand jury was instructed today to investigate gang killing and general lawlessness in Kansas City and Jackson county, Missouri.

As it assembled, Circuit Judge Allen C. Southern explained the duties of the jury and then tolled off a list of 14 unsolved slayings in the county since January, 1948. He read the names of the victims, the date they were killed and ascribed probable motives in some of the cases.

He ended with the latest that of Wolf C. Hummer, County Club member and a coin machine operator who was slain last March 24.

The following startling chain of events, he said, indicates that in this community commercial gambling and contraband are under exclusive control of distribution and sale of liquor are the chief incentives to gang killings and general lawlessness.

Congratulations Police
In the same charge, he congratulated the police department for its traffic record but said "No explanation has been offered for the failure to protect the public from murderers, convicts and then appointed agents of death."

He also called attention to two unsolved crimes which took place in the Jackson county courthouse. On May 27, 1947, he related, "thieves or burglars entered the very office of the election board whose members are sworn to provide the public with honest elections and stole from the safe ballots which were impounded in the court and were sent to the grand jury in determining whether or not election frauds had been committed."

He also related that on June 10, the same year, $1,000 in trust funds held in the office of the sheriff were stolen.

"No effort has been made by law enforcement agencies to prosecute the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators of these crimes against society," he said.

Sent by Governor
Attorney General J. M. Taylor at the request of Gov. Warren Smith has assigned two assistants to do the investigative work. The judge found this action fortunate.

In the Rooming House
Southern listed several theories advanced as possible motives for the effort to obtain a wholesale liquor distributorship exclusive operations in coin machine and a bridge which is still under way.

Many against white-black marketeers in Brooklyn in 1941.

Foreman of the grand jury is George Fiske, Kansas City manager of the General Electric Company.

Questions Right of Law to 'Seize and Search Stomach'

DALLAS, May 28 (AP)—The question of whether or not a man's stomach is subject to seizure and search by law enforcement agencies will be decided by Federal Judge William H. Atwell on June 11.

August Guzzardi of New Orleans, a federal prisoner at the U. S. Public Health Service hospital at Fort Worth, has filed a writ of habeas corpus claiming that he was illegally convicted by a New Orleans federal court on charges of possession of narcotics.

In his petition, Guzzardi claims that he was "manhandled by a New Orleans detective without notice of arrest." Guzzardi stated that he was carried to the New Orleans Charity hospital where doctors forcibly pumped out his stomach.

Guzzardi said that he fainted during the treatment and upon regaining consciousness, the police notified him that they had removed several grains of heroin and an opium derivative from his stomach.

After being turned over to Federal Narcotic agents without a legal arrest warrant, Guzzardi said he was taken before a federal judge on March 10, 1948 where he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in prison.

Guzzardi claims he was illegally seized and subjected to treatment thus deprived of his constitutional rights, that any evidence obtained by use of a stomach pump was illegal and could not be used against him and that he had not been advised of his right to have a lawyer of his own before the court that convicted him.

Judge Atwell today issued the writ of habeas corpus ordering Guzzardi to his court at 10 a. m. June 11 and to show how and why the New Orleans man is being legally held in federal prison.

Reports of Ceremony Not Confirmed
CANNES, France, May 28 (AP)—It Prince Ali Khan has decided when and where to ask Allah's blessing on his marriage to Rita Hayworth he did his best to keep it a secret today.

There were reports that a Moslem ceremony was to be performed today at the prince's luxurious chateau de l'Horizon but they could not be confirmed.

The Hollywood screen star and the heir-apparent to spiritual leadership of the Ismaili Moslems were married in the town hall of Vallauris yesterday by Communist Mayor Paul Desgrain.

Lee Elliott, Rita's business agent, said the newlyweds were taking a well earned rest today.

Taking a Rest
The prince has done nothing about any ceremony and Rita has been sitting around the house in shorts and a T-shirt, and in the half dozen cuts in the (Cannes) (continuation) these are all cuts that belong here."

His implication was that if there had been a ceremony, there would have been guests. Among the guests would have been the prince and his wife, Rita Hayworth, which he often drives.

The prince, however, declined to see visitors.
